Sunderland Set To Appear Before Civil Service Board

Chief Determined To Regain Job

W. W. Sunderland will appear before the Daly City civil service commission Friday, April 18, in an effort to regain his job as chief of police, it was learned today.

Time for the hearing is 8 p.m. in city hall, 75 Wellington avenue. City Administrator Dan Andersen said he did not know at this time whether the meeting will be open to the public.

It is expected that Sunderland's appeal will be rejected by the board. Earlier the city council stated that as far as they were concerned Sunderland retired as of April 1.

Sunderland told THE RECORD last week that should his appeal be rejected he may carry his case to the superior court. He had no further comment on this prospect today.

When the chief attempted to return to work April 1 he was met by Andersen who told him he was finished. Sunderland believes he has not retired, and says he is going to make every effort to come back in order "to clear my name."

The 55-year-old law enforcement officer took sick leave last August after his name was connected with several bookie raids here by the district attorney's office. Sunderland claims he was the "fall guy" in the bookie web, and others are involved.

Should the case ever reach the superior court it is expected that the names of these "others" will be revealed.

NEW COUNCILMEN TAKE OFFICE TUESDAY

Daly City's council will welcome two new councilmen at a special meeting Tuesday, April 8.

At 8 o'clock in City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue, Joseph Verducci and Edward J. Dennis will be sworn into office.

The public is cordially invited to attend this initiation meeting.

Hanrahan Trys For School Board

Claude Hanrahan this week announced he will be a candidate for the Jefferson elementary school board of trustees May 16.

He will oppose incumbent Helen Cheatham. While Mrs. Cheatham has made no official anouncement as to her intentions to seek re-election, she is expected to be a candidate.

Meanwhile, the Jefferson high school board of trustees election race remains the same. Incumbents Peter Markovich and Ann Eason will seek re-election, while Elio Fontana will attempt to unseat one of the two candidates.

Daly City Girl Is Witness At Inquest

Kathleen Picetti, 85 Bell Mar avenue, Daly City, was one of the principal witnesses Tuesday at the coroner's inquest ending with a verdict that Norman Bothelo, 22, and Andrew Ulibarri, 19, both met death at the hand of Robert Ranson, 19, who shot them in San Francisco's civic center following a quarrel at the Butchers' ball March 29.

With other witnesses she unfolded the story of an expected gang fight that turned into a shooting affair as Ranson out loose with a pistol and dropped five youths to the ground, two of them fatally wounded.

Ranson stared icily at Miss Picetti as she testified she had seen Ranson twice before and there had been "trouble" on both occasions.

OLSON WINS PLACE ON POLICE COM.

Garden Village is now represented on the Broadmoor Police Commission.

At a special election Monday, Valdemar Olson, 116 Village Lane, won a seat on the commission with 117 votes. Vincent Murphy, 515 Midway, the only other candidate, received 83 votes.

Claude Hanrahan who was appointed to fill out an unexpired term on the board will retire in favor of Olson.

Other members include Patrick C. Patey and Armando Ferraris.

Garden Village has long sought representation on the board, and won a singular victory Monday. However, of the close to 2,000 registered voters, only 205 saw fit to cast a ballot.

Mnemonics Expert Is Needed Badly By This Broadmoor Car Owner

James Shields, 748 Stoneyford drive, Broadmoor, was somewhat red-faced last week after making a frantic report to the local boys in blue that his car had been stolen.

It happened like this. Shields took his car into a service station on Junipero Serra boulevard, then strolled across the street to a grocery store while the auto was being gassed up.

Completing his shopping, Shields walked outside to the parking lot for his car, forgetting he had left it at the service station. Panicky, he called the cops, who notified the sheriff's office and San Francisco police.

A short time later a Daly City officer found the car—still parked in the service station, naturally.

Wonder what Shields said to the cops when they gave him the good word?

Whole Bay Area Is Affected By Many Different Strikes

Westlake Building Now At Standstill

Industrial strife continued to affect thousands of Bay Area workers today, and Daly City residents and workers were hit hard.

All building in the community virtually had been halted by the nine-day strike of carpenters in four Bay Area counties, including San Mateo. Westlake construction, by the Henry Doelger Company, had come to a halt. Officials of the organization estimated some 200-300 units were affected, with several hundred men idle. As carpenters set up picket lines, allied workers refused to cross them. Other building projects in Daly City were hit by the strike.

Steel plants in the area started reopening yesterday after government seizure. Some shifts reporting to Bethlehem Pacific's South San Francisco plant complained they had been "locked out" as its opening was delayed until late in the day.

The five-state telephone strike became nation-wide as pickets were ordered to all Bell System installations. Some 25,000 northern California workers and 300,000 throughout the nation are due to be effected.

Western Union offices from coast to coast were picketed for the eighth day yesterday as 30,000 members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers' Union, including 1,300 in the Bay Area, remained on strike.

Some 16,000 members of the CIO Communications Workers, including 900 in the Bay Area, stayed on strike for the third day.

Another round of peace meetings was scheduled to start late this wek in the Greyhound tieup. The 40-day strike has effected 2,900 members of the AFL Motor Coach Employees Union and halted bus service in seven western states.

Ticket's Split By Voters

In one of the lightest votes in history, a little over 3,000 of 8,100 registered voters elected Edward J. Dennis and Joseph Verducci to the city council, April 8.

This was the first time in many years that two winners were selected from opposite "teams."

Verducci's running mate, incumbent councilman Edward J. Mooney, came in third.

Dennis's team mate, Henry J. Gross, came in fifth.

Surprising strength was shown by Thomas Tromborg, local plumber, who finished a strong fourth, only a few votes behind Mooney.

Verducci, athletic director at San Francisco State college, won with 1,531 votes. Majority of these votes came from Westlake where Verducci is a resident.

Dennis, former councilman and president of the milk wagon drivers union, was close behind Verducci with 1,478 votes.

A dark horse candidate, Michael DeBernardi, drew an unsuspected strong vote. Running as an independent candidate, he finished with 819 votes.

Del Wilson came in seventh with 517 votes, and George Wheeler last with 249.

In the city treasurer's race incumbent Paul Selmi won by a comfortable margin, receiving 2,376 votes. His opponent, Mel Battye, came in with 1,418 votes.

B. C. Ross, city clerk, was unopposed in his bid for relection. He received 3,100 votes.

Broadmoor Police Check Blown Safe

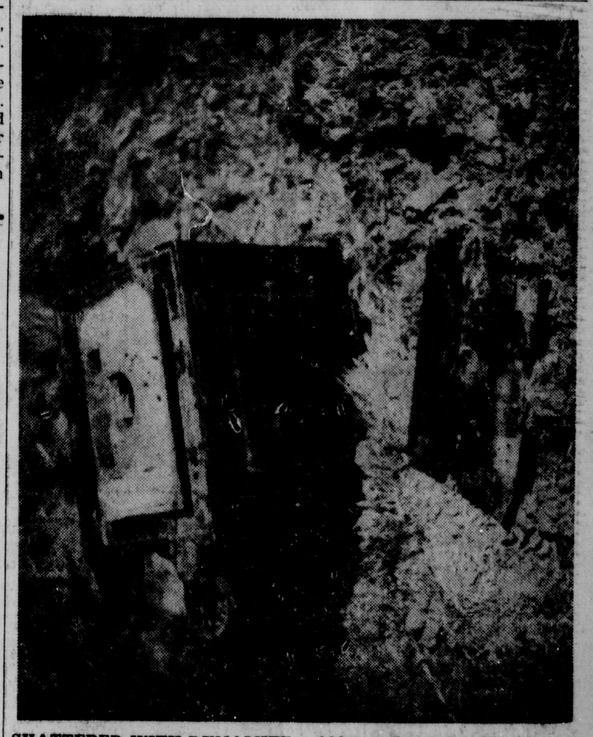
Acting on a report received from Jack Eberly, partner in the Daly City Scavenger company, Broadmoor police found a 200 lb. safe, blown open and rifled, near the intersection of San Pedro and Edgemar roads, Thursday, April 3.

Investigating officers from the Broadmoor police district, Lieut. Harry Brown and Officer Don Tannehill, found the safe approximately 20 feet off Edgemar road, at a point about 200 yards west of the Edgemar-San Pedro intersection.

The safe lay at the end of a path crushed through the weeds from the highway, indicating that it had been thrown off a passing car or truck and allowed to roll down the incline.

A check with San Francisco police disclosed that the safe was stolen from the Warehouseman's Union hall, local No. 12, 106 Valencia street, San Francisco.

The safe was robbed of $400 in union money, and was stolen sometime between the hours of 5:30-7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 12.



SHATTERED WITH DYNAMITE, a 200 pound safe lies off Edgemar road in the outskirts of Broadmoor. The safe, containing $460, was stolen from the Warehouseman's union hall, 106 Valencia street. Broadmoor police investigated.

Easter SUNRISE Service

(Editor's Note: See page 4 for news of other church activities)

"In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

"And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angle of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

"His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

"And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

"And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

"He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay."—(Matthew 28, 1-6.)

Around these few words have been woven a fabric of custom and tradition that compose what we now know as Easter.

The celebration of the Resurrection has, in the course of one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two years, become inextricably intermingled in our minds with customs derived from all over the world.

Easter eggs and Easter rabbits, new clothes and white lilies, even the name "Easter" itself, have come from many cultures to enrich the major Christian festival of the year.

Easter, the word, comes from ancient Teutonic mythology. The old Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring, Ostara, has had her name altered from its original form, to Eostre, and finally to the word as we know it today.

April, or Ostara's-month, was from earliest times considered the beginning of spring, and the time to blossom out in new and fancy clothing.

The Easter egg, as we use it to-

Porch Light Drive In Daly City For Cancer Fund

Burning porch lights in Daly City on the night of April 17 will indicate a desire on the part of citizens to contribute to the cancer drive currently being conducted here.

Mrs. E. Byrne, Daly City campaign chairman, has asked that all residents who wish to contribute turn on their porch lights between 7-9 p.m. on that night.

"Most families have had some experience with cancer," Mrs. Byrne said, "and therefore realize the importance of additional research into possible causes and cures of the dreaded disease. Any amount you wish to give will be greatly appreciated."

Mrs. Byrne's precinct captains include Mrs. A. Carouthers, Mrs. Larsen, Mary Wakefield, Marie Gehrig, Celia Gardella, Irma Vranich, Mary Lauffenberger, Aimie Bunkley, Agnes Denning,

South City Voters Come Out Strong; Elect Better Government Candidates

South San Francisco voters turned out in droves Tuesday, and the League for Better Government candidates, John Noonan, Emilio Cortesi and Telford Smith, walked away with all three council seats.

The clean sweep for the LBG group tossed out Victor Boido, connected for the past 20 years with city politics. Incumbent Charles Elder also suffered a surprising defeat. The league's top candidate, Cortesi, was vindicated by receiving the highest vote count of the three winners.

The hotly contested fluoridation issue in San Bruno was defeated by a vote of three to one. San Carlos voters also defeated the proposition to fluoridate city waters. Neighboring Belmont passed the measure.

South San Francisco City Clerk Dan Hyland reported the highest vote count in San Mateo county. Hyland said 6,122 voters turned out, with 9,186 registered.

Following are final returns in Tuesday's municipal elections held throughout the county except in the City of San Mateo itself:

South San Francisco — Emilio Cortesi, (incumbent) Telford Smith and John Noonan were elected to the council. Day Hylund was voted in as city clerk, and E. P. Kauffman, city treasurer.

San Bruno—Clay Fisher and James Fitzgerald, councilmen; Falph Woodman, city clerk; Joseph A. Cunningham, city treasurer.

Millbrae—Douglas W. Morgan, Webb Witmer, city councilmen; Mrs. Isabel Smart, city clerk.

COLMA RESIDENTS CAST LIGHTEST VOTE

The fewest city council votes in all of San Mateo county were cast in Colma Tuesday when only 44 of the town's 200 registered voters turned out at the polls.

This was possibly due to the fact that the three incumbent councilmen were unopposed.

The vote ran: Bartley Flynn, 44; John Newton, 36; Earl Taylor, 31.

Move To Separate Post Office Gets Large Support

DeBernardi Claims Petitions Welcomed

A petition calling for the separation of the Daly City post office from the San Francisco post office is receiving strong support here, it was learned today.

Michael DeBernardi, who instigated the move, says he now has "over one hundred" signatures on the post office petition.

It is his intention, when the signatures are completed, to forward the petition to Senator Knowland and top post office officials in Washington, D. C.

Purpose of the separation is to obtain better service and a cancellation stamp for Daly City, DeBernardi said.

Under the present set up all local mail goes through the San Francisco department and is stamped "San Francisco, 25."

Daly City Inside Defense Buffer

New Defense Zones Set Up In County

Daly City is within the "defense buffer zone" of the bay area, it was announced today.

This includes a 10 mile area outside the four mile center of San Francisco.

Inside and outside the buffer zone the Bay Area industrial dispersion committee has been authorized to issue statements on qualifications for new plant construction under the disposal program.

The national resources board states that the government is encouraging new and expanded industries to enter dispersal areas by granting of priorities and allocations, loans and contracts.

Whether this encouragement will be extended to areas like Daly City, which are within a buffer zone, is still to be ascertained.

Reilly Named McKinnon Aid

Edward J. Reilly, city councilman and former mayor of San Mateo, was today appointed to act as general campaign manager of the San Mateo County drive to elect Congressman Clinton D. McKinnon, of San Diego, to the office of United States Senator from California.

McKinnon, who has the united backing of the organized Democratic groups of the State, will oppose U. S. Senator William F. Knowland, Republican.

In announcing the appointment, McKinnon said, "I consider it an honor to have an outstanding civic leader like Edward J. Reilly take over the leadership in San Mateo county for my campaign."

McKinnon, a former newspaper publisher, was a successful business man, editor and student of world affairs before he was elected Congressman from the 23rd district, San Diego county. He has attracted considerable favorable attention in Washington, over the nation and in California as a legislator and a statesman.

FAMED DEER DANCE

The famed Deer Dance of Taos in Northern New Mexico, which is reported by the National Automobile Club to be a mystical interpretation of an ancient legend, requires a whole afternoon for its unfoldment.

TRUCK OWNERS KNOW

Truck tires naturally come at higher prices than those for passenger cars, points out the National Automobile Club. Wheel wobble due to bearing wear or wear in other parts makes tires wear out more rapidly. Because the penalty attached costs considerable money, truck operators guard against it. In their policy there is an excellent lesson for the owner of passenger cars.

Daly City taxpayers are requested by Thomas H. Kuchel, chairman of the Franchise Tax Board, to file state income tax returns now.

Kuchel advises that the state income tax office at 540 Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, will be open every day, including Saturday, April 12, from 8:15 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., to advise and assist taxpayers in the preparation of state returns.

Military Government Training Jobs Open

Daly City men and women interested in joining a military government reserve training unit, with pay and retirement benefits, given for each training session, now have an opportunity to do so, according to Col. Richard Locke, Jr., commanding officer of the 351st military government area headquarters in Palo Alto.

In the event of activization, the mission of a military government area headquarters is to serve under direct supervision of the theater commander in the administration of a major political entity, such as a state or nation.

To qualify, applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 35, and pass a physical examination. No previous training is required, but veterans will be given preference.

"The Consul" Slated For SF

Musical Drama Coming April 14

Seldom has a musical work received such high praise and acclaim as has Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Consul" which Paul Posz is bringing to the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, for one week, beginning Monday, April 14th.

Staged by Carl Ebert, "The Consul" is a surprisingly interesting musical drama telling of a woman in a totalitarian country who tries to rejoin her husband who has been forced to flee to a free country. The consul is the barrier between her and her husband.

Recognized as one of the most important works of the present time, "The Consul" won for its youthful author and composer, the coveted Pulitzer Prize for the finest musical and the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award for being the best drama of the Broadway season of 1950-51.

Performances are nightly at 8:30 with a Saturday matinee and a bargain priced matinee on Wednesday.

Callous Hands Shall Never Touch The Lowly Amphibian

The Calaveras jumping frog is blushing!

In Angels Camp, the lowly amphibian will now be the object of tender affectionate care. No longer will the jumping frog be subjected to the calloused handling of grizzled westerners of the Mother Lode.

Six beautiful girls, delicately clad in a manner designed to direct attention—to the frogs—shall we say, will handle and care for the contestants in the Calaveras County Fair Frog Jump at Angels Camp May 16, 17, and 18, according to Robert S. Woods, presiding judge of the event.

FEDERAL BUDGET

If you went to the bank every work day—five days a week, 52 weeks a year—and deposited $2.04 to the credit of the U. S. government, you'd just about be paying your proportionate share of the $85,444,000,000 Federal budget, on a population basis. Your deposits at the end of the year would total $530.40, while the 1933 Federal budget would amount to $531 for every man, woman and child in the United States if each paid an equal share.

day, came originally from Persia, where it was considered a symbol of new life. The rabbit, too, came from the early Syriac peoples, as a symbol of rebirth and fertility.

White lilies have become an inseparable part of the Easter celebration in every Christian faith. Catholic, Protestant and Orthodox alike use them as a representation of purity. The liturgical color for Easter everywhere has always been white.

There is no evidence as to exactly when Easter began to be observed. The early Christians, after death and resurrection, continued to observe the ancient Jewish festivals, but with a new conception, considering those events which the festivals symbolized as fulfiled in Christ.

In this manner, the Jewish festival of the Passover was gradually changed over, in the Christian idiom, to a celebration of the rebirth of Christ.

At various times in various places, Easter has been celebrated on March 21, April 18 and April 25.

But regardless of date, and regardless of the traditions surrounding it, the importance of Easter still lies in the story told by the Gospel narators, Sts. Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

You May Walk With Death Soon

Two out of five persons killed in automobile accidents in this country are pedestrians, according to the California State Automobile Association.

Furthermore, nearly ALL pedestrian accidents involve personal injuries, some serious enough to cripple the victim for life.

The fact is, the automobile has the better of it for power, size, weight, speed, momentum, force of impact, and hardness of material. In short, the pedestrian hasn't got a chance when he tangles with an automobile; his only course is to learn to obey the traffic regulations and to learn to watch for turning cars and look both ways before crossing streets.

On the other hand, the motorists must learn to be a competent, careful driver, with due regard for the rights of others. In city after city, the pedestrian casualty rate has been reduced by cooperation between police, motorists and pedestrians.

The Record

Published Weekly

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1952 ACTIVE MEMBER

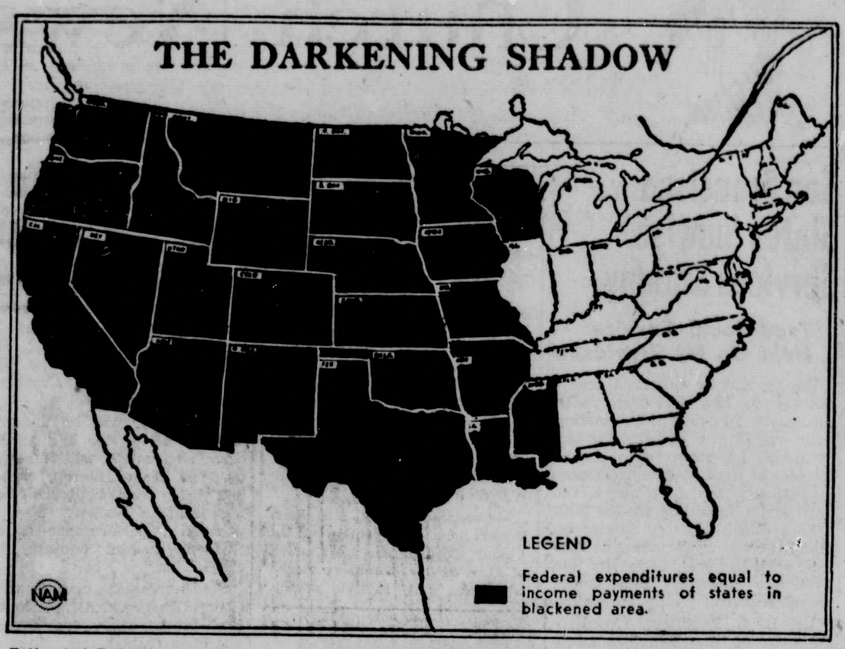
Formerly the Daly City Record

Entered as second class matter March 30, 1922, at the Post Office at San Francisco, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Published Weekly.....$3.00 per year

3317 San Jose Avenue Telephone PLaza 5-4321

Harold P. Bradshaw.....Publisher and Superintendent



Estimated Federal expenditures for 1953, under President Truman's proposed budget, would equal the incomes of all persons west of the Mississippi (the darkened area), according to National Association of Manufacturer's estimates. This is a black picture, indeed, for the American People. The tremendous increase in Federal spending is realized when it is understood that in 1929 the spending amounted to less than two-thirds of the income of those people living in California.

REGISTERED VOTERS SHOULD NOT BE PROUD

There were 8,110 registered voters eligible to cast their ballots in Tuesday's election.

Approximately 3,100 citizens bothered to walk or drive down to a precinct center and cast a vote. This means that only 37 per cent of the voters in Daly City took the trouble to do anything about electing two councilmen and a city treasurer.

This is a very shameful record, and one of which Daly City should not be proud.

And, for some who think this is only a small election in a small California town, that reasoning is faulty and dangerous.

Our Democracy is solidly based on the free election of government officials by the public. Everyone has the right to criticize a public official. If he thinks that an official has done wrong, or that another would do a better job, he has the right to try and change the situation through his vote.

It is our firm opinion, however, that the person who did not bother to vote has absolutely no right to criticize. He has forfeited that privilege by his failure to cast a ballot.

Apathy on the part of the citizens of Daly City seems to us to be an extremely dangerous thing. It matters to little to THE RECORD who won the council seats. All the candidates were good men.

What does bother us, however, is the fact that few citizens—and all are directly influenced and hit by the decisions of the city council—cared enough about their city government to study the candidates, their platforms, and then go out and vote.

Lack of interest on the part of voters can—and in many countries has—lead to some unhealthy situations. With a light vote, one candidate can unite a strong minority group and march into office with ease. Taking advantage of public indifference has brought more than one dishonest politician to a place of power.

THE RECORD does not imply that such is the case in Daly City. However, if the residents of this city continue to show such lack of interest in local government, such a situation could arise.

The struggle for independence in America was a long and hard one. One of the burning issues of the Revolutionary War was "taxation without representation." It took an even longer period of time before every citizen won the right to vote.

We now have representation. We have the power, as citizens, to decide how we want our government—whether it be local, state or national—to be run.

Let's not lose that power through sheer lack of interest.

EASTER -- RENEWAL OF HOPE AND COURAGE

It seems most fitting that Easter should come in the spring. For, like spring, Easter brings with it a renewal of hope and courage, a renewal of the promise not only of eternal life but of a better life here and now.

Jesus Christ proved His Divinity by His Ressurection, and gave crowning proof of the truth of teachings—and those teachings constantly stressed love and the brotherhood of man. His was not weakness, but a strength such as the world had never seen.

If we accept the Ressurrection as the proof of life beyond the grave it is equally important that we accept the simple rules of living which Jesus taught in the Sermon on the Mount. One is no less important than the other.

To wait for others to show a Christian spirit first is not a Christian attitude. To be mean and petty during the year and then to make a show of attending church on Easter betrays a poor concept of Christ and Christianity. Christianity should be "lived" every day—not just casually remembered on the great Christian feasts of Christmas and Easter.

Easter has its lighter side—the fun for the kiddies, the traditional Easter parade and the happy family get-togethers. But church attendance should be prompted by something deeper than the desire to see, or be part of, a fashion display.

Have fun on Easter, but take time to think what Easter means and let its meaning go with you, not just for the day but throughout the year. You'll be better for it—and the world will, too.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY HERE

Thanks to an alert police department, Daly City has little to worry about with juvenile gangs.

This, of course, is only half the story. The real reason juvenile delinquency has failed to get a toe hold here is the interest of parents in their children.

Daly City is a community of families. It is proud of this reputation, and while it has suffered a black eye in other lines, it can boast of one of the lowest juvenile delinquent ratings in the state.

It is a foregone conclusion that where you find strong family ties you rarely find the problem of delinquency. In nine out of 10 cases where a boy or girl has run into trouble the family behind that child is existent in name only.

We believe the quickest way to eliminate this problem is to punish the parents along with the children who have broken the law. For who is to blame more for a child going astray than the parents?

When we bring a delinquent into court, let's bring his father and mother. Let's get to the bottom of the trouble before it reaches the stage where the child ends up a killer.

It is too bad all communities can not be communities of families, but where this is nonexistent let the law take an intelligent view of the situation. This, we believe, will put an end to juvenile delinquency quicker than any other measure we know.

DALY CITY DOGS AGAIN "ACTIVE"

Daly City dogs are once again mistaking men for hamburger on the hoof.

Police report a great number of pooches have been taking an even greater number of bites out of local residents. Whether this condition is peculiar to Daly City, or is simply a sign of spring, remains to be seen.

However, on the more serious side, there is little question that in a city a dog's place is on the end of a leash or in a fenced-in yard.

This may be a dog's life in the worst sense of the word, but it affords some protection to pedestrians who can't bite back.

Police have enough trouble keeping the two legged residents in line without worrying about the four legged variety. As there is only one poundman, he cannot be everywhere at once.

Consequently, the problem can not be solved by city officials; nor for that matter by the dogs.

The only solution is to be found with the poochs' owners. It is their job to keep their dogs under control, to keep Fido's teeth out of neighbor John's leg.

We hope dog loving residents will have a little consideration for their fellows who much prefer cats and canaries to dogs. Keep your canine under control.

Tax Situation

Uncle Sam Now Receives 23 Per Cent Of Average Daly City Resident's Check

Uncle Sam already takes about 23 per cent of the income of San Mateo county's average breadwinner—and it will take a lot more if public opinion doesn't force some drastic economy, California Taxpayers' association said today.

The $85.4 billion budget for 1952-53 demanded by the federal government would increase Uncle Sam's take to about 30 per cent of the average earner's annual income.

That would be for federal taxes alone—with state, county, city, school district, and special district tax demands piled on top of the federal take.

Proposals for reduction of the $85.4 billion budget include Senator Byrd's recommendation for an $8.6 billion cut, the National Association of Manufacturers proposal for a cut of $14.8 billion, the Coudert resolution that a ceiling of $71 billion be set on the federal spending for 1953—which means a $14.5 billion reduction—and others recommending specific reductions.

"Each of these proposals holds that the reduction recommended could be made with no injury to national defense or essential government services," the Taxpayers' association said.

"If only the $8.6 billion cut recommended by Senator Byrd were made by congress, San Mateo county taxpayers would be saved $17,283,000 in eventual reduction of direct and concealed federal taxes.

"Congress should go the whole way—cut the proposed budget back to $71 billion—the amount present taxes are expected to raise," the association declared.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public, or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. There are just two requirements: the letters must be signed, and must be within the laws of libel. We hope readers will show enough interest in their city to occasionally "sound off;" for the purpose of this column is to give you, the reader, a chance to express an opinion.

Westlake Wants Stop Signs On Alemany To Control Traffic Thru Residential Area

Chief Ronald A. Petrocchi

Dear Chief:

For more than a year, since the opening of the Town and Country Market at Westlake, we have had a serious problem with respect to the intersection of the Alemany Extension and Lynnwood drive and Lake Merced blvd. Of course, there are similar problems with respect to the other intersections of Alemany blvd. between Junipero Serra and the Skyline blvd. However, the more serious one is the one just referred to.

In an effort to control the flow of traffic, we recommended to the State Division of highways that the speed limit be reduced on Alemany, which was accomplished with some benefit, however it is obvious that the reduced speed limit is not the entire answer.

To my knowledge, we have had three serious collisions at the intersection and as recent as last Saturday, there was still another which involved a hit-and-run.

We have requested automatic signal controls for this and the other intersections, however, we have been informed that it is not yet expeditious to make these installations.

It does occur to me however, that interim relief is necessary and required in the form of standard arterial stop signs and better still, if possible, those stop signs with the red light or reflector on them.

The situations appear to arise from the traffic flowing east and west which gains momentum down the slope of the highway without any stop signs controlling that traffic at any of the intersections with the exception of one that is merely a notice for pedestrian crossing.

I earnestly request that you give immediate consideration toward the installation of stop signs controlling the traffic on Alemany Extension so that until automatic signal controls can be installed, we can at least have the protection of stop signs on all four corners of the intersection.

Should there be anything further required to achieve the result herein requested, I would appreciate your informing me so that all necessary proceedings may be taken.

Your immediate attention and cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,
Charles Becker

'Man Of The Year' To Be Chosen By Citizen's Club

A "Man of the Year" campaign was begun yesterday by the Italian-American Citizen's Club of Daly City and Colma, Dan Casentini, president, announced.

"The Citizen's club will endeavor to bring to the public a private citizen deserving the title of "Man of the Year," said Casentini.

"For many years the north end of the county has produced great and good men in politics, in business and in private life. It is time they are recognized and rewarded for the efforts they have expended for we local people," he added.

A committee of Citizen's club members has been organized to actively begin selection of nominees for the award.

Suggestions and prospective nominations from other local organizations will be welcomed by the Club, Casentini added.

The selection will be made from a person from the north end of the county, presumably Daly City, Colma, Broadmoor, Westlake and Colma, Inc.

Any individual or organization desiring information on the campaign, or anyone who wishes to make suggestions for nominees, should contact Casentini at PLaza 5-1915, or the Citizen's club secretary at PLaza 5-6674.

Presentation of the award will be made in August, 1952, Casentini said.

Daly City Leader Backs Judge Bocci

Strong support has been accorded Judge Thomas Bocci's candidacy for re-election to the north San Mateo county municipal judgeship this week with the announcement that E. B. Flynn of San Bruno and George Glass of Daly City have pledged their support to Judge Bocci's campaign.

E. B. Flynn, prominent in north county real estate circles, stated to the press, "I have known Judge Bocci for many years, both off and on the bench, and I know of no fairer man for the office of Municipal Judge than he."

The majority of north San Mateo county leading business men and civic leaders have pledged support to Bocci's re-election, including veteran leaders, fraternal groups and many of our leading women's organizations.

The Federal budget asks $3,500,000,000 for the Armed Forces to acquire real estate and carry out construction projects; this would raise to $8,900,000,000 the total asked for that purpose in budgets for the years 1951-53.

Bill Katz . . . FROM A CORNER

While aimlessly wandering through the never-never land of a building magazine last week we came upon a plan for construction of a book case.

It was a simple plan, aimed at the average home owner who desires to save a few bucks by turning carpenter. Although our better judgment turned on the stop signal, we went full steam ahead into cabinet making.

The first shock came when we went to purchase the lumber. After signing away six months pay we hobbled home under an armful of brackets, boards, and bills.

All's Well

Taking saw in hand, we went to cut the boards to the size given in the plans. All went well, until half way through one board the saw buckled, the board cracked and our back went out of whack. careful consultation with a neighbor convinced us we had the wrong type of saw. We went out and bought another cutter.

With the boards cut to approximate size, we considered the plane. This is a simple instrument designed for shaving boards down to kindling. Of course, some where along the line it is supposed to make the board's edges level. This, however, is a rumor.

After destroying two nice pieces of lumber, we decided to shelve the plane in favor of a "rustic" bookcase. The description "rustic" is familiar to all seekers after homes. A "rustic" home is a home sagging at the beams, or put up by carpenters such as we.

Tank Trap

Taking the two sides of our bookcase we proceeded to nail them to the shelves. The nails went everywhere but in the shelves.

Two hours later all our boards looked like sieves, and our thumb like a boil. We had wasted enough steel and labor to build a good-sized tank.

Discouraged but not wise enough to quit, we finally managed to screw the book case together. It was beautiful, and might have been useful except that all the shelves were on a 45 degree angle.

At this point something snapped. A hammer began flying and two minutes later the boards were in the fireplace . . . along with the handyman's plan for building a bookcase.

Three weeks later we purchased an unfinished bookcase, slapped on a coat of varnish and hid it in a corner of the bathroom. Next week we plan to sand it down again, and make another try at varnishing.

Somehow, the simpler way might be simply to get rid of our books . . . or just go out and buy a finished, complete bookcase.

Stan Bibbero . . . BIBBERO'S BABBLE

Sunday is Easter, and guys and their dolls will parade the streets everywhere—from Daly City to Fifth avenue—dressed up in the finest that a hard-stretched budget can produce.

It might be interesting someday to trace back the custom of getting all decked out in brightest hues on Easter to its origin. It wouldn't be a bit surprising if it all started in the fertile mind of some clothing salesman.

However, this is not a diatribe against the honored custom—merely a comment to the effect that finally the man is getting into the act.

Until the last few years man's place in the Easter Parade was merely to provide his wife with a convenient arm-rest, or to keep her from falling into a puddle as she strained her neck to spot a duplicate of the "original" she was wearing.

Father never was expected to do anything more than look clean and fairly neat. His clothing was hardly noted for brilliance or originality. In fact, his clothing was hardly noted, period.

A few years ago some bright salesman probably thumbed through a history book and came up with the startling revelation that for many centuries it was the man, by gosh, who wore the gay plummage. Which seemed fairly natural, since in all nature it is the male which is equipped with the brightest fur or feathers.

Somewhere along the line the women got together and decided things were tough enough, and it was about time the old boys quit parading through the streets like they were actually the lords and masters.

And, as the sadly disillusioned male animal has found frequently, once the woman has made up her mind, he is all through. How and where once proud man lost his dominance are questions still being puzzled over by the philosophers, psychologists and writers. It is too long and heartbreaking a story to relate here. Suffice it to say that he was reduced, in matters of clothing, to sackcloth and ashes.

But it is encouraging to note the recent trend. Man is once again trying to rival the rainbow. The old dark, severely cut suit is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. Vivid colors and patterns are the style. Daring new designs are being shown, and it wouldn't be surprising if a low cut formal shirt is the thing in the future.

One style that hasn't returned—praise all the gods that be—is the skin-tight pant designed to reveal the masculine leg in all its sturdy beauty. How the Eighteenth Century designer managed to put across the idea that a man's leg could be attractive is a little hard to imagine.

So, on Easter Sunday when the men strut down the street, clad in the newest of colorful garments, be glad that a blow has been struck for equality between the sexes. It's at least one small step.

Ridgely Cummings . . . HOLLYWOOD

The members of the Vine Street Chamber Group, a gang of sterling and idealistic musicians dedicated to bringing high brow music to a low brow neighborhood, walked into Wil Wright's for lunch the other day.

We had been rehearsing. Rather the musicians had been rehearsing and I, as the manager, had been reading the morning papers and listening to them with half an ear.

My partners parked themselves at one of the small marble tables. I went on back to the lavoratory to wash away the black stuff that is laughingly called newspaper ink in Los Angeles.

When I returned I saw that my four musicians were using all the available space at the table. Luckily I knew the man sitting alone at the adjoining table. His name was Homer, last name a secret. He's a night club entertainer.

"May I join you Homer?" I asked.

The entertainer looked up from the Variety he was reading. He's about 45 but with a pink, smooth face that makes him look younger. He sings, dances and tells funny stories when he's working, but is inclined to be morose and silent offstage.

"Sure, please do," he said.

I sat down on the wire chair and talked with Morrie, Adrian, Carmen and Joe at the next table, planning a performance the group will give soon before the Bohemian Club. But when my salad was served I had to turn my back on them to eat it. This brought me face to face with Homer.

"What's new in Variety?" I asked, just to make conversation.

"Nothing," he said, speaking with emphasis.

"The salads are good here," I remarked.

"Too expensive," Homer replied.

"How's Harry?" Harry is his straight man.

"He left the act," said Homer shortly.

"That's too bad."

"He was getting too old anyway." Homer ran his hand over his hair, which looked vaguely different to me. "The public wants youth these days. I'm looking for a new straight man, somebody about 35, taller than me, with stage presence. He doesn't have to be funny. I'm the comic in the act. That was the trouble with Harry, he thought he was a comic."

"I always liked Harry. What's he gonna do now?"

"He's got a job as disc jockey on a small station out of town. Have you ever thought about going into show business? You're just about the right build for it."

"Not me. I haven't got the right temperament. I'd rather be an observer than an actor."

Homer described the attractions of show business until I finished eating and my gang tapped me on the shoulder and said they were ready to leave. Outside, one of the musicians asked, "Was that Homer Whoosis you were talking to?"

I said it was and asked why.

"I caught his act in Cleveland last year but he looked different today," the musician said.

"Yeah," I agreed. "He's done something to his hair. It looked a little reddish on top. I think he must have touched it up."

"He was bald the last time I saw him," said my companion.

We dropped the subject and went back to work. That evening I ran into Billy White, a retired vaudevillian.

"Hey Billy," I hailed him, "here's a chance for you to make some dough. Homer is looking for a straight man."

"I wouldn't work with Homer," said Billy.

"Why not?"

"He's too conceited," Billy explained. "You know he's wearing a wig now? It's a fact, he paid two hundred bucks for it at Max Factors."

"So what?" I said. "His looks are his bread and butter."

"Yeah, but he wasn't satisfied with an ordinary toupee, one that matched the rest of his hair, blondish with a little grey in it. These guys kill themselves with conceit every time."

"How do you mean?"

"He had to go and get a golden wig. It's a dead giveaway."

Now that I thought of it, Billy was right. I had noticed something was wrong as soon as I saw Homer. A more astute person would have solved the mystery at once. It is such momentous problems as these that occupy the attention of the habitues of Hollywoods' Vine Street.

State Income Tax

Tax Liability Determined By Taxpayer's Gross Income Less Deductions

Tax liability under the California law is determined by reference to the taxpayer's gross income less allowable deductions, personal exemptions, and credit for dependents.

This article is concerned with "gross income" and "adjusted gross income" as defined in the law.

Gross income includes, in general, compensation for personal or professional services, business income, profits from sales of and dealings in property, including gain from sale of taxpayer's own personal residence (loss from such a sale is not deductible nor has the State adopted the Federal law providing for the postponement of the gain), interest, rent, dividends and gains, profits, and income derived from any source whatever, unless exempted from tax by law. Income in the form of property is taxable to the extent of the fair market value of the assets received.

Tuition and subsistence allowances received by veterans from the Federal Government under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 are not includible in gross income.

Payments

The following particular payments received for personal and professional services are subject to tax:

All salaries received including directors' fees, executors' and trustees' fees, commissions, bonuses, tips, and profit-sharing distributions by an employer to employee;

All salaries received by Federal, State, county and city employees, including compensation received as a member (active or retired) of the armed forces or of the state guard, are taxable; likewise, notary public fees and jury fees, both Federal and State;

Marriage fees, baptismal offerings and other contributions received by clergymen and other religious workers;

Payment for services received in whole or part in the form of living quarters or board and room to the extent of the value of the accomodations furnished;

Pensions paid to retired employees of a state or political subdivision thereof, and similarly, pensions or retirement payments made to a former employee by a private employer, to the extent the pensions so paid are taxable under the law.

In reporting wages, salaries, or other compensation employees must include the entire amount thereof even though some portion of such compensation is deducted by the employer (1) for the purpose of creating a fund for payment of retirement pensions or (2) as a prepayment of Federal income taxes.

From 1789 to 1913 the Federal government derived almost all of its revenue from consumption taxes, including the customs duties, except for a few years during and after the Civil War, when income tax was levied at a low rate.

CANDIDATES THANK VOTERS

Verducci-Mooney Happy Over Vote Of Residents

Verducci Pledges Progressive Program

Joseph Verducci, successful candidate in the recent city council election, today said he appreciated the support of the many residents who saw fit to vote him into public office.

"I promise to do my best to carry out a program of civic improvements for the greater Daly City area," Verducci said.

As athletic director of San Francisco State college, Verducci is an expert on recreation. He again pledged today to carry on the successful recreation program launched by his running mate Edward Mooney.

Councilman Mooney today said it had been a pleasure to have such a fine man as Verducci as his running mate.

"I am very happy that the people saw fit to elect Verducci, and I am sure they made a wise choice."

While Mooney was not returned to office, he did receive a large vote of confidence.

"I have been pleased to see Daly City grow over the past four years, and I shall do everything in my power to help the city continue along that path of development," Mooney said.

Tromborg - Wilson Thank Voters

Council Candidates Grateful For Support

Thomas Tromborg and Del Wilson today thanked the residents of Daly City for supporting them in the recent city council election.

While neither of the men won a council seat, the vote was close enough to show Tromborg and Wilson have many friends in Daly City.

"It is indeed gratifying to realize so many citizens have so much faith in Del and myself," Tromborg said.

Both men congratulated the two successful candidates, and pledged themselves to aid in any constructive effort to build a greater Daly City.

Councilman Dennis Thanks Citizens For Large Vote

New Councilman Pledges Improvements

Edward J. Dennis, successful candidate for the city council last Tuesday, today thanked the public for their support of his candidacy.

It was Dennis who received close to 1500 votes in the election.

"I am sincerely grateful to my many friends and fellow citizens for bestowing upon me the sacred trust of public office. I pledge to live up to their confidence, and bring to Daly City the finest government possible," Dennis said.

Dennis promised to carry out the progressive platform upon which he successfully won the election.

"Unlike many candidates, I shall not forget my platform," Dennis said.

He also emphasized he will be available to the public at any time. "Feel free to call upon me with any of your problems," Dennis said.

The new councilman's running mate, Henry J. Gross, also thanked the public today for their support. While he did not win a council seat, Gross netted a large vote.

In conclusion, Dennis and Gross said they had immediately removed all their campaign signs from Daly City. This, they said, is a small step in the right direction toward city beautification. They hope other candidates will be quick to follow suit.

Dennis and Gross thanked THE RECORD for its impartial, fair treatment of the pre-election campaign.

DeBernardi Fights For Post Office

Thanks Residents For Fine Support

Michael DeBernardi, who received a large vote in Tuesday's election for city council, today thanked the voters who supported him in his campaign.

"Although I was unsuccessful," DeBernardi said today, "I am sure the winners will serve to the best of their ability the community. I pledge to support and aid them to the best of my ability."

DeBernardi praised THE RECORD for its non-partisan stand and fair presentation of the political scene during the past weeks.

In conclusion DeBernardi said he would continue in his efforts to get an independent post office for Daly City.

Selmi Grateful For Large Vote

City Treasurer Thanks Public

Paul Selmi, elected for his second term as city treasurer, Tuesday, today thanked the public for their support.

The popular Daly City realtor said he was happy so many voters have seen fit to return him to office.

"This overwhelming vote of confidence is satisfying in that I know I have the confidence of the voters at large," Selma said.

He pledged again to carry on his honest, straight-forward job of serving the people as their city treasurer.

New Air Raid Alert In Preparation

Daly City will get another air raid (practice, that is) on Thursday, May 1.

A joint cities-county civil defense coordination board laid plans for the next test alert at a recent meeting.

The last drill, April 3, and the coming one, are aimed at testing the effectiveness of the warning devices and the operation of communications equipment.

The April 3 siren was plainly heard throughout Daly City, but authorities say that some residents of Atherton and Menlo Park failed to hear and recognize the warning.

Ways and means of securing additional alarm mechanisms are currently being discussed.

GREAT BOOKS LEADER COURSE SCHEDULED

An extensive eight week program for training Great Books leaders will be conducted at San Mateo Junior college beginning Thursday, April 17.

This is of special interest to Daly city residents, as the local library is now attempting to start a Great Books discussion group.

Residents interested in taking this leader's course are asked to contact Mrs. Marcie Trier or Miss Lorraine deFanti at the Daly City library.

It is expected that leaders trained in this course will lead the Great Books group here in the fall.

SAUSAGE FIGURES IN $50,800 SUIT

A sausage today is the central figure in a $50,800 damage suit.

Mrs. Sylvia M. Lillifors, former operator of a store in Redwood City, charged that on April 4, 1951 Renato J. Napoletano, a representative of the Cariani Sausage company, came into her store to sell sausages.

She asserts that "without provocation" he assaulted her. She said she suffered injuries which motivated the $50,800 suit.

Population Jump Seen If New Bay Span Is Okayed

A major Daly City population increase is forseen when the proposed new bay span goes into operation.

Backers of the plan, still kicking around the Sacramento legislative hoppers, hope to force it into reality in the near future.

Governor Earl Warren, in a recent declaration, maintained that the second crossing is "necessary for the development of the bay area."

Warren is chairman of the California Toll Bridge Authority, which voted several years ago to build a new span parallel to the present one, then decided on a southern crossing.

If the President's budget is approved by Congress, the government will have authority to spend a grand total of $145,549,000,000 in fiscal 1953 because of an estimated carry-over of $61,289,000,000 from fiscal 1952.

Interest Mounting In Big Convention

Interest of 17th District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers in the annual state convention has been heightened by the participation of official district hostesses and the "Mothersingers" in San Francisco, April 15 to 18.

Chairman of hostesses is Mrs. G. J. Sirex, of San Carlos, retiring president, who also will appear at the Mothersingers concert on Thursday evening, April 17. Duties of hostesses precede the arrival of delegates from the 31 districts in California, with notes to arrange hospitality during the visitors' stay in the Bay Area.

Mothersingers groups of San Mateo county include the women's choirs of the San Mateo Junior college adult education center; East Palo Alto choral members, who have joined San Mateo; the Taft PTA chorus of Burlingame; Roosevelt-Lincoln PTA chorus in Burlingame; a San Bruno group that meets each Thursday morning; and the Millbrae Choraliers.

Souvenirs from the 17th District will be found in their hotel rooms by district presidents in San Francisco for the convention. Other services of the hostesses have been transportation and reservation inforation, arrangements for special district get-togethers at luncheon or evening parties, and the various delegations will be met at the hotels by each hostess.

Volunteers on the committee with Mrs. Sirex, who as chairman has scheduled the activities, include Mesdames A. W. Lauffenburger, Lyal Ingersoll, J. A. Eason, Thomas Mullen and John Sorensen, of Daly City.

"Born Yesterday" Set For Peninsula Theatre April 18

Seats for the Peninsula Little Theater's production of "Born Yesterday," the wise-cracking comedy hit by Garson Kanin that had New York in stitches for four years, are on sale and can be obtained by calling Mrs. John Lawrence, FIreside 5-2895.

With Bob Day and Arline Severson in the leading roles of a loud, piratical profiteer and his complaisant ex-chorine, "Born Yesterday" will begin an engagement of six performances on April 18.

This comedy attained a four-year run in New York to be classed as the biggest laugh-show of the post-ware stage. It tells the story of a junk-dealer who had pyramided war-time profits to a point where he owns a Senator and a dimwit dame plucked from a chorus-line, as well as a once-promising lawyer and a stable of other assorted stooges. Having brought his menagerie to Washington where he means to see that he gets the legislation he thinks he had paid for, even the illiterate junk man can see that his girl friend needs a quick finishing-school course to make her presentable to his new social contacts.

Wide Gaps

Naturally the gaps in Miss Billie Dawn's knowledge can't all be filled at once, and she makes some school girl howlers that are classic. When asked if she knows what a peninsula is, she says, "Of course, it's that new medicine."

But she really does learn a few things from the lofty-minded young newspaperman engaged to tutor her. In fact she learns too much. The girl who had been a dumb broad becomes so smart that her overbearing, burly protector anguishedly demands that another tutor be found to make her dumb again.

Others to be seen in the Peninsula Little Theater's presentation, in addition to Bob Day and Arline Severson, will be William Stretch as the idealistic reporter-tutor, Wallis Wenner as the lawyer who stays drunk to overcome his sense of failure, Harold Reynolds and Bernice Barnett as a Senator and his wife, and Ephraim Cannon and Betty Tartaul. The comedy is being directed by Robert Brauns, with sets by Sam Rolph.

Public Schools Week Slated Soon

The 33rd annual Public Schools Week observance will be held throughout California April 28th through May 2nd, according to George D. Gavin, chairman of the general committee, with more schools and more citizen committees participating than ever before.

The slogan of the week is, "The Public School—An American Heritage," and the effort of all individual observances will be directed toward getting as many people as possible to visit one or more schools schools during the week.

"With more than 70,000 school children in the state denied all but part-time classroom instruction, the need for a closer understanding of the public school crisis is very great," Gavin said.

"We have more than 700 committees working with the school authorities to present the story of the public school. We feel there is an obligation on the part of all citizens, conscious of the importance of education as training for citizenship, to know just what the schools are doing and what their problems are today."

Merchants, corporations, clubs and organizations of all types are joining to help dramatize the story of the Public School. Speakers bureaus in some communities report extensive speaking schedules before service clubs, veterans organizations and others. Merchants are making special window displays to illustrate the work of the schools.

One of the themes of the week will be "Let's all go back to school—if but for a day."

New President Is Installed By PTA

The Colma PTA held its annual installation dinner last Wednesday at the Colonial Dining Room, with Mrs. Sanford Vickers receiving the president's gavel from the hands of Mrs. John C. Wiesner.

Mrs. Stella Jensen was installing officer, and during the ceremony each officer was presented with a flower representing a jewel. The president received a bouquet of all types of flowers, portraying all qualities the board of officers is to represent during her year as president.

Mrs. Jack Clayton, hospitality chairman, was mistress of ceremonies, and the program included a piano solo by Carol Anne Hansen; the presentation of an attendance prize for the year, which went to Miss G. Gannon's fourth grade class at Jefferson Elementary school, with Mrs. Hazel Colwell's first grade receiving honorable mention.

A piano solo was presented by Donald Wiesner; a history of the unit by Mrs. Frank Lovazzano; a piano solo by John Wiesner, Jr.; a presentation of the publicity book by Mrs. William Chessman to Mrs. J. Mrs. Vickers and Mrs. Wiesner reported they attended a spelling bee held in San Mateo April 3. Mrs. Edward J. Dennis and Mrs. Vickers attended a recent meeting in city hall of the recreation department in connection with the annual Easter egg hunt, held Wednesday.

VFW Women Elected To County Council Recently

At a recent meeting of Old Glory Auxiliary, No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the following women were elected delegates to the San Mateo-Santa Clara county council: Mesdames Marie Gehrig, Shirley Walker, Mrs. Bonnie Ellenwood, Mrs. Clara Poket and Mrs. Elizabeth Sorrensen. Mrs. Gehrig is not president of the county council, as erroneously reported last week.

Medical Society Committee Will Hear Complaints

As part of their ever-expanding service to the people of San Mateo county, the doctor-members of the San Mateo County Medical Society have established review committees to receive and investigate all complaints concerning members of the profession practicing in the county.

The committees are composed of doctors representing all specialties of medical practice, and it is their purpose to hear testimony and pass judgment.

"These committees have been in operation for over a year now" said Robert L. Wood, Jr., executive secretary of the society, "and their operation is of such high calibre that the doctors want people to know about them.

"Most complaints result from misunderstandings that can easily be settled by frank discussions between doctor and patient. But every now and then inability to reach agreement makes the use of the review committee a necessity."

Wood emphasized that any complaints received in the society's office are accorded full, fair, impartial and confidential treatment. He said "sometimes people are reluctant to give us all the facts and hence we cannot help them, but when we are able to have the whole story we can always reach some agreement. It is just further evidence of the doctor's regard for his patients."

Anyone who desires can come or write to the society office at 235 Third avenue, San Mateo, or call DIamond 4-7641.

Jeffs Beat Rams 8-1; Win Track Trophy Too

Baseball

With Coach Glenn South ailing and unable to be on hand, the Jefferson high school Indians came forth with an all-out effort at last Friday's Peninsula Athletic League game with Willow Glen.

Sparked by the work of hurler Don Delbon, the Jeff's steamrolled Willow Glen 8-1 in a game played on the local's diamond.

The win left Jefferson in a three way tie for fourth place in current PAL standings.

Delbon, showing the form that made him stand out on last year's frosh squad, fanned six Willow Glen hitters and walked none. He gave up only four hits.

Jeff sluggers played havoc with Willow Glen pitchers Jones and Schroeder. In the second inning, the Jeffs knocked out six hits and registered five runs on them.

The rally was headed by center fielder Mario Leveroni, who rapped out a double.

Willow Glen picked up their single score in the fifth, while Jeff Coach Clarence Lair, subbing for South, watched his boys pick up single runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth inings to drive their total up to the winning eight.

Sarto AC Rings Up Five Straight Wins

Down Regals 8-0 In Sunday Tilt

After overcoming an 8-0 third inning lead, the high-flying Sarto AC baseball team downed the Regal Pale Beer club 13-8 at Marchbank field last Sunday.

The win over Regal Pale makes it five in a row for the Sarto nine, which boasts of wins over Portola Merchants, and the S. F. Eagles, as well as a 12-3 trouncing of Vince and Fred's Highlight of the game was first baseman Fred Sims' homer in the sixth, driving three runners home. Sims' clout, flying an estimated 450 feet, landed on the doorsill of the field clubhouses and bounced inside.

Top batters for the Sartomen were Pfender and Schuback with three hits each. Costa, Olcese, Norry and Sims collected two each.

With no game scheduled for Easter Sunday, team mentor Joe Sarto expects his regular catcher, Ben Parodi, to be ready for behind-the-plate service in time for the next game. Parodi's sore arm forced him into the outfield recently.

Bike Racers Open Season At Local Track Friday

Motorcycle and auto race fans will find their sport booming again locally when the Belmont Speedway opens its 1952 season tomorrow, April 11.

The two-wheelers will race tomorrow evening and every Friday thereafter until the season ends, shortly after Labor Day.

Hard-top auto racing at the speedway will begin Wednesday, April 16, and continue on succeeding Wednesdays.

Ted Smyth, speedway director, reports that extensive remodeling work, to widen the track's curves, is currently underway.

Fans will recall that last year found the Belmont track the home of a new world's record for the two-wheelers on a quarter-mile lap.

Local Club Takes Second For Third Straight Year

Windup of class AA winter league play found local favorite Vince and Fred's Liquors in the runner-up position for the third consecutive year.

Meeting the Cooper-Varni diamondmen for their final game, the Vince and Fred team came out on top 4-3.

The Daly City squad picks up a team trophy and individual awards for its members as a result of its standing in the final tally.

Winner of the league play was the Don Gilmore team, who totaled 11 wins and two losses as against Vince and Fred's 10 wins and two losses.

Third spot went to Cooper-Varni with eight wins, five losses; fourth position to Tufo Jewelers with seven and six; and fifth to the Leslie Salt team with four and nine.

Vince and Fred look forward to the Peninsula AA Summer league play but maintain they will not enter unless hot showers are functioning at field clubhouses. "A traveling team has to have hot showers," they say.

Track

Operating on what Coach Ernest Ribera termed "a very fast track in excellent condition," the Jefferhigh school track team added up a 65½-48½ win over South San Francisco high at their last meet.

A meet trophy came back to the Jeffs to commemorate the victory. Called the Windbreaker AC Perpetual Dual Meet Trophy, the gewgaw once more resides at Jefferson, after a year's sojourn at the South City school.

In the three divisions, varsity, 130 lb., and 120 lb., the Jeffs won handily in the first two, lost by a slight margin in the third.

Fastest action came when the Jeff varsity relay team—Mac Douglas, Lennie Monson, Jerry Yarborough and Al Schenone—breezed through the 880 yard relay in 1:34.6, a big two seconds off the former school record.

Another record of sorts was grabbed off by Monson when he took the 440 in :54.4, the fastest time for that race piled up thus far in the current Peninsula Athletic League season.

Schenone, relay anchorman, also came through with wins in the half mile and 220. It took him just 2:8.2 to go the longer distance, and he broke the 220 tape after a lapsed time of 24 seconds flat.

Other varsity wins were Ronny Peden, who went over the low hurles in :16.4 and did the high ones in :22.5; and Bob Davis, who strong-armed the shot out to a distance of 42 feet and flipped the discuss 104 feet six inches.

In the 130 lb. division, the Jeffs took every running event. Bernard Villa won the 1320 yard race in 3:52, Dave Coates took the 660's in 1:36.8, and two double winners, Wayne Webb and Del Haman put in their share.

Webb won the 75 yard dash in :8.4 and the 150 in :16.4. Haman took the 330 in :38.8 and the 120 low hurdles in :15.6.

Tom Brown, Local Tennis Ace, Takes Bay Counties Tourney Championship; Heads For Pebble Beach Annual Next

Daly City lawyer and net star Tom Brown came up to expectations last weekend when he emerged from the Bay Counties Tournament finals with another win to add to his already long list.

Brown beat Eillis Slack of Palo Alto in quarter-final play Saturday and downed him 6-3, 6-2. The preceding week he defeated Ralph Gish, of the Olympic Club, to earn his right to play Slack.

In the semi-finals, Brown—a former Davis Cup competitor and winner, with Jack Kramer, of the world's doubles championship in 1946—met Nick Carter and topped him 6-4, 8-6.

Came Sunday and time for the finals, it was Brown versus Fred Hagist, number one man on the University of California tennis team and recent winner of the Northern California Intercollegiate men's singles, held at Berkeley.

Outcome of the five-set finals match found Brown wining 8-6, 6-3 and 6-3.

This was by no means the beginning or the end of Brown's recent work. A few weeks ago he went down to LaJolla and picked up another tourney championship there after defeating such tennis "names" as Ted Schroeder and Art Larson.

This weekend he heads for Carmel and the Pebble Beach Annual men's singles championships.

Commenting on the work of others at the Bay Cities tourney, Brown reports he was especially taken with the tennis playing of Miss Maureen Connelly, who came out on top of the women's events.

Miss Connolly won much acclaim last year when, at the tender age of 17, she won the women's national singles championship at Forest Hills.

And Forest Hills, of course, is a place to which Lawyer Brown would like to return.

He has twice been runner-up for the men's world singles championships. Third time may be the charm.

Central Club Wins Merchants Bowling Championship Here

Central Club kegglers found themselves champs of the Merchant's Bowling league when the final results were totaled up Monday.

Going into the last round of competition with a 45-36 record, as compared to the runer-ups, Thur Meat Co. and the Foresters, 43-38, the Central Clubbers were expected to breeze through to a quick league victory.

However, the squad's three games against the Daly City Lions found them going down to three consecutive defeats, and a playoff with the Thur Meat team was necessary.

The Central Club squad finished the season with a 47-39, with Thur Meat close behind with 45-39. The wining squad received a $70 trophy and American Bowling Congress jersey emblems for team members.

High games of the evening went to Lloyd Selby of the Daly City Lions, 221; Leroy Prinz of the Central Club, 213; and Joe Belli of the Daly City Lions, 200.

High series of the evening fell to the same men, Selby picking up a 579 series, Belli a 532, and Prinz a 516.

The Daly City Lions moved from seventh place up to fourth following their three wins over Central Club.

Central Club came out on top of the all-league game and series scores, with the high game of the league, 941, won in the early weeks of play. High series also went to them with a 2696.

Close behind came the Daly City Lions, who had a 937 high game and a 2671 high series.

After the eight teams in the league had polished off their Sept.-April play, top man of the lot proved to be Paul Bruch of Lombardi Auto. Bruch came out with the highest individual game of 278, and the highest individual series, 647.

Sept. 16, 1952, the teams presently composing the Merchants league will become part of the new Daly City-Colma Winter league, which begins play at that date. A total of 16 teams, double the present number, will participate in the new league.

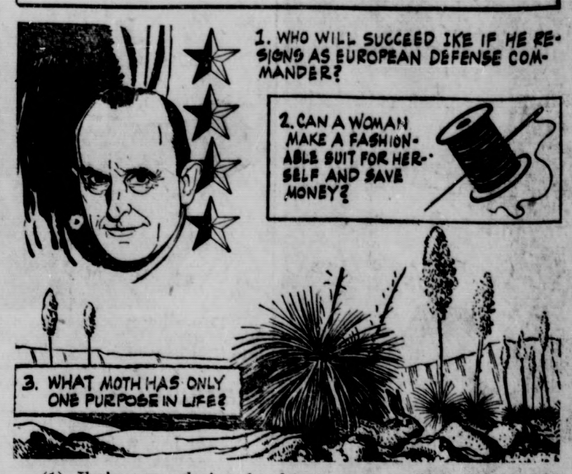
Knowledge is Power



1. WHO WILL SUCCEED IKE IF HE RESIGNS AS EUROPEAN DEFENSE COMMANDER?
2. CAN A WOMAN MAKE A FASHIONABLE SUIT FOR HERSELF AND SAVE MONEY?
3. WHAT MOTH HAS ONLY ONE PURPOSE IN LIFE?

(1) Ike's own choice for his successor (if and when he needs one) is General Alfred M. Gruenther, his present chief of staff. During his career as a staff officer Gruenther became the youngest brigadier general, then the youngest major general in the U. S. army, according to David Schoenbrun of "Reporter" magazine. Gruenther's talent for organization brought him fame long before he became chief planner of the U. S. army at the end of the war. Twenty years ago he umpired the world-championship contract-bridge tournament between Ely Culbertson and Sidney Lenz.

(2) Definitely yes, says Mary Brooks Picken, homemaking authority. One young stenographer tried on a $175 suit, decided it was too expensive, and set about making it herself. How she did it is told in "Barbara's Easter Outfit," a picture story in the April "Catholic Digest." With a few refresher lessons at a nearby sewing center Barbara Jo, the steno, turned out a suit with that haute couture look for $39.85—saving herself a tidy $135.15 in the process. The pictures and text tell you and show you just how she did it.

(3) The female yucca moth lives to fertilize the yucca blossom. She doesn't visit the flower for nourishment, explains Florence Jaques in her book, "As Far as the Yukon." The moth does not visit the flower for nourishment; its nectar has no value for her. She collects a ball of pollen from the blossoms of one plant, then flies with the ball to the next plant. At this second plant she places the pollen ball in the pistil where seeds of the yucca will eventually form.

Flood Victims Seek Help

Anxious refugees of the disastrous midwestern floods of last July apply for help at Topeka, Kansas. Tens of thousands of persons got Red Cross aid — emergency food, clothing, shelter, medical care and help in rebuilding, repairing and refurnishing their homes.

THE OLD MAN awoke and lay listening. A knock on the door at night meant only one thing—road agents! Decent people hallooed at the gate.

There was tromping on the porch. Heavy boots! He nudged his wife. "Road agents!" he whispered. Her body jerked and she sat up.

The rough element had the upper hand in Montana Territory, and many innocent people were being murdered for a few dollars. Both of them knew that under a loose brick in the hearth lay a poke of gold dust. It represented the sale of all their farm produce for the past season.

While others panned the streams for gold, the old couple had been farming. They had done right well too, selling wheat, eggs, milk, hay and meat to the miners.

"We better get up," he said softly. "I don't want it said of me I was murdered in bed."

"And I don't want it said of me that road agents caught me in my night clothes. I was born a lady. I will die the same." Ma threw back the feather bed and began to squirm into her clothes.

The old man creaked out of bed and pulled his pants over the long underwear in which he had slept. He padded across the floor to the window. It was dark as a cave on the porch but a little lighter in the yard. He could see a horse near the gate.

Dressed, the old lady joined her husband at the window. A porch ran the width of the cabin, Missouri fashion. The old lady had insisted on it. She never had time to sit on it, but a porch stood for a way of life she had left behind.

On the far end of the porch there was pounding and splintering of wood. Could the road agents be taking up the floor, looking for a cache?

When the waiting became unbearable, the old man thrust his wife through the door with the words, "You talk them out of it." The old lady's glib tongue had talked them out of difficulties before. Like the time she caught the immigrants stealing a pig. And the time the Indians wanted the coffee grinder.

But road agents! They were not famous for listening. Still her husband had faith in her. She would try. Perhaps she could turn the trick. As he peeped through the window he could see her stiffen her back, toss her head and start toward the noise. She snatched up a broom as she passed him.

Now he could see a dark mass cowered in the corner. "Come out of there," she called in a voice that expected to be obeyed. Only stomping answered. Such impertinence was too much for Ma's dignity. She lifted her broom and brought it down with a tremendous whack. With a snort the dark object lunged forward and ambled away. With weak relief they both recognized old Bessie, their cherished cow.

"Well," exclaimed the old lady in a tone plainly heard inside the window, "you certainly had Pa cowed."

News of Your Local Businesses and Business Men

Tanforan Florists, at 6178 Mission street, have been in business here for over 20 years—and for six of those years I, for one, have been a year-round customer. Why? Because I love really fresh flowers, friendly service and reasonable prices—and Tanforan Florists have never failed to supply me with all three of these items!

Now, at Easter time, their shop is sending out fanfares of fragrance from pure white trumpet lilies and huge branches of sweet-scented lilac. Potted rose trees, massed with red or white blooms, sit saucily by their door, and even the humble Marguerite is tinted with pastel colors, waiting to make this Easter a perfect one for you and your loved ones.

"Ah," you say, "sounds beautiful, but how much?"

Well, that's a good question, and here are some good answers: (Remember, you may establish a 30-day charge account here.) Easter Lillies, in foil wrapped pots, garnished with satin bows—$2.00 to $3.50, and these are large! Measured one bloom seven inches by seven inches! Rose trees, red or white, decked out for Easter and massed with buds and blooms at only $3.50! Perfect for later garden planting, too. Corsages, of violets, camellias, gardenias, sweetpeas with bachelor buttons, to name just a few, will delight Mother or daughter. These come gift-wrapped in a dainty cellophane bag for only 50c to 75c.

The store will be open until 10:30 p.m. on Saturday and all day Easter Sunday with constant delivery service both days. And remember, if you can't come in personally, establish your charge account over the telephone. Put your Easter order in now!

And while you're down in that neighborhood, admiring the flowers in the Tanforan Florists, wondering how soon it will be before you drop into the Club Casino for a wonderful dinner, or looking over the marquee of the Daly City Theatre, how about dropping in for a look at the wonderful selection of men and boy's clothing in O'Brien's Men's and Boy's Store? This store gives you downtown credit terms—and in you own locality!

Best buys in Easter Baskets seem to be on display at Shaw's, in Broadmoor. You name it, and they have! Beautifully boxed and way bigger than you'd imagine Rocky Road or Tutti Fruitti, chocolate-covered eggs sell from $1.00 to $2.50, and the baskets for children, of every size, shape and description, sell from 85c and up. Take a look here first!

Do your children have a "stick 'em up" complex about their drawings? Buy them a panel of "Fir Tex" wall tile at the A. L. Stockton Lumber Co., 6100 Mission street. These panels are faced with white paint, are 16 by 32 inches in size and cost the ridiculous price of only 37c. Children love them—and so does your paint job.

Catsup "bottle beaters" may now save their energy for eating! Ed Nenstiel, of the Daly City Hardware, now has in stock a squeeze type bottle shaped like a ripe red tomato—complete with green leaf lid—which dispenses one bottle of catsup at your discretion. Price is 98c and well worth it, too!

Local window trimmers (or is it window dressers?) whose talents could trim professionals down to size include Jayne Duncan of Lee's Pharmacy and Mr. Weitzel of Weitzel's Shoes over in Broadmoor. And if you don't believe me how about you trying to make fifty pairs of shoes cry for a buyer. Or better still, a hot water bottle and some aspirin.

All over town, though, the windows are beautiful—especially the ones featuring clothing! Gleason's Dress Shop, on Top-of-the-Hill, with gay butterflies backing dresses for social butterflies. Leslie's, over in Broadmoor, featuring linen blouses straight from a rainbow of colors and scarves, scarves and more scarves—plain, pleated and polka dotted—striped, svelte and slithery in taffeta—scarves with nosegays of flowers knotted in them. And the prices? Just 65c to $1.95! Berning's, store for men in Broadmoor, has a window full of just-in ties for the spouse—"Hollyvogue's," at only $1.50, but looking like a million. And Kiddieville, just next door, is an Easter paradise for dainty dotted organdy and straws.

THE CITY IS STILL HAVING TROUBLE with the Westlake water system, as demonstrated again last week when a pipe went out on Fairmont drive in the newer section of the tract. Pressure from the local system is too great for the pipes. However, this situation is expected to be remedied when the city puts in a pressure reduction valve sometime this summer. WITH THE 2nd INFANTRY IN KOREA—Robert Biagini, whose wife, Marian, lives at 307 Santa Barbara avenue, was recently promoted to sergeant while serving on the Korean battlefront with the 2nd Infantry Division.

The "Indianhead" division acchieved fame by capturing Heartbreak Ridge late last fall. More recently it has sent small raiding parties into the mountainous terrain along the central front and engaged in artillery duels with the Reds.

Sergeant Biagini entered the Army in March 1951 and joined the 38th "Rock of the Marne" Infantry Regiment in September, 1951.

THESE KIDS REALLY BROKE UP WINDOWS

Police expect kids now and then to get the urge to break a few windows—and most boys are guilty a few times during their growing years—but to much is enough.

Two Broadmoor youths, aged 10 and 11, were picked up Monday by Daly City police for breaking the aforementioned windows. Not content with one or two, police estimate the boys smashed about 193 panes in 18 new homes under construction on the Henry Doelger tract. That's a lot of glass.

The case was turned over to the San Mateo county juvenile court.

New Chrysler Experimental Car Makes U. S. Debut

Called the C-200, a striking new experimental Chrysler convertible just arrived in New York City this week from Genoa, Italy, on the luxury liner "Constitution." It will go on public display for the first time at the Parade of Stars Automobile Show in the Waldorf-Astoria ballroom.

This C-200 convertible is another product of Chrysler styling, conceived and designed in the corporation's Detroit styling studios. As with the previous Chrysler experimental car, the K-310, drawings and scale models, painted and trimmed, were completed in Detroit and shipped, along with a Chrysler chassis and engine, to Ghia, custom body builder, of Turin, Italy, for execution of the body and assembly of the automobile.

Signposts to Future Designs

Officials of Chrysler Corporation emphasized that the C-200 convertible is a further experiment to explore the blending of sports car styling with practical automobile design and engineering features in body, chassis and engine that measure up to the American driver's concept of how a car should handle and respond to American driving and traffic experiences.

Continued heavy pressure on Chrysler's engineering facilities, occasioned by, the corporation's dual role in both defense and civilian research and production, led to the decision to have the experimental convertible built in the Ghia shops, which are primarily set up to execute such individual and custom bodies.

PG&E Plans Two New Plants

Pacific Gas and Electric Company today announced plans to extend its Pit River hydroelectric development in Shasta County by the construction of two new powerhouses, Pit 4 and Pit 6, at a total estimated cost of $45 million. The two projects will add 144,000 kilowatts on new generating capacity to the PG&E system.

N. R. Sutherland, vice-president and general manager, said the Company has applied to the Federal Power Commission for an amendment to an existing license for Pit 4 to permit changes from the original plans and for a license to construct and operate Pit 6.

Pit 4 Powerhouse will have a generating capacity of 84,000 kilowatts and will cost an estimated $25 million. The Company desires to begin construction by July 1 and estimates that the project can be completed by 1955, Sutherland said. Pit 6 will have a capacity of 60,000 kilowatts and will cost approximately $20 million. It can be completed in an estimated three years from start of construction.

The two new plants together will increase the total power capacity in the company's Pit River system to 440,000 kilowatts.

Area Construction Jumps Last Month

Building permits representing $3,152,593 in new construction were issued during the month of March by San Mateo county building inspector A. W. Russell, $1,854,134 more than the amount of construction for the same period last year.

The record March figure brings the total building for the year to $7,401,308.

Russell pointed out that most of the increase this year is accounted for in applications by the Junior Estates company for construction of 113 $13,000 homes in Baywood Park.

Number Of Planes Here In Nose Dive

There are fewer and fewer private pilots in Daly City these days...at least if statistics for San Mateo county are correct.

The civil aerounautics administration revealed today that for the year 1951 there were 223 private aircraft in the county. The figure for this year is only 113 active planes.

The trend was attributed to the closing of several San Mateo county airports during the past year and increased taxes involved in owning aircraft.

On a nation-wide basis the same trends were noted with a total of 54,039 aircraft listed in the active classification, compared to 60,921 in 1951.

your doctor thinks . . .

"This was a long day . . . I wonder what they all thought of me . . . my services . . . my fees. I guess the Medical Society would let me know if something was wrong . . . but how many people know to go to the Society? I'd better call the Secretary and . . ."

your doctor suggests . . .

1. Your doctor wants you to tell him when a fee, which is reasonable for others is more than you can pay without depriving yourself or your family of the other necessities of life.

2. Frankly and honestly discuss your situation with your doctor in advance. Don't put off explaining your circumstances until after you receive the doctor's bill. It isn't fair to either of you.

3. Arrange now, while you are well, to have a family doctor . . . one who will know you and your financial circumstances and who will be immediately available in an emergency. If you don't have a family doctor, let us help you find one. Call Diamond 4-7641 night or day.

4. Arrange, while you are well, to cushion your budget against the economic shock of sudden illness. Ask your doctor about the many low-cost plans of voluntary health insurance. They cost but a few cents a day.

if you have a complaint let us know about it

1. Probably, if you follow these suggestions you won't have one. But if for any reason, you are dissatisfied with the treatment from a doctor, the medical profession wants to know about it.

2. The doctors of San Mateo County have established Review Committees designed to receive and investigate any complaints against medicine from any source. It is one more way the medical profession can demonstrate its earnest intention of providing the best medical care in the world at a price you can afford.

3. Simply contact the Society's office at 235 Third Avenue, San Mateo (DI 4-7641) and a complete investigation will be made.

4. You will be assured of full, fair, and completely confidential treatment.

Remember . . .

Most complaints result from misunderstandings between patient and doctor. They should be avoided by a frank discussion in advance.
Your doctor's primary concern is and always has been the protection of your health.
